How to plan and build your next bathroom

Firstly, we are excited to hear that you've taken the first step to research how to renovate your bathroom and/or laundry and you came to the right place.

Welcome to the quick guide of what to consider when planning and renovating your bathroom and/or laundry. Whatever your requirements, our specialised bathroom designer and tradesman have put together this document to help you understand the processes and how to maximise the aesthetics and functionality for you and your family.

Read the next page on key considerations on how to plan and build your bathroom of your dreams.

Plan for what you need/want.

This is the most crucial part to your renovating project. Planning what the end product will look and function. Are you happy with the existing layout and need just upgrade the bathroom fixtures and fittings or do you need to completely start fresh to maximise the aesthetics and functionality with the latest gear. Deciding what you need will avoid misunderstandings, communication and objectives. Our specialised team will guide you through the packages and service we have on offer that works with your budget and timeframe.

Fittings and fixtures

Fittings and fixtures are everything that's installed permanently or temporary in the "most" busiest room in the house. This includes toilets, showers, vanities, cupboards, bathtubs, tiles, lighting, tapeware, mirrors, basins and accessories. Quality is key when it comes to choosing what goes into your bathroom and laundry renovation project. When you choose and use cheap fittings and fixtures, they may look good at the start but will soon need fixing or replacing which may be more costly at the end. At Build Coast Bathrooms, we use the best quality on the market from leading suppliers at Beaumont Tiles, Harvey Norman and Reece just to name a few.

Plumbing and Electrical

Now that you have a plan. Our team will break down how we will bring the plan to life whether you're rearranging the toilets, showers, vanities, freestanding bathtub and all your electrical points and lighting to suit your new layout. We do things right the first time, so we bring the bathroom to stud walls to allow the electricians and plumbers to relocate the necessary rough-ins and then comes back at the end when all the fittings are being installed .

Turn your renovation plan into action

If you want to avoid common mistakes, these are some of the main areas you need to consider before embarking on your bathroom renovation.

Before your project begins, it's important to talk to a specialist company like Build coast bathrooms who can listen to your needs and offer advice on the best way to achieve your goals. You should also visit shops like Reece and Beaumont Tiles to find baths, showers, tiles, and so on.

Along with advice from our bathroom design professionals, that'll give you a real feel for what's available and possible. Then we can help you finalise the plan for your renovation – and let the excitement around your new dream bathroom really begin.
